13	5.RN.4.2: Combine information from several texts or digital sources on the same topic in order to demonstrate knowledge about the subject. 6.RN.4.3: Compare and contrast one author’s presentation of events with that of another.	A. Soldiers at Valley Forge are suffering. D. Congress is slow in getting supplies to the Continental army.
14	5.RL.2.3: Describe two or more characters, settings, or events in a story or play, drawing on specific details in the text, and how they impact the plot.	D. Kate is excited to do something special with her brother.
15	5.RL.2.3: Describe two or more characters, settings, or events in a story or play, drawing on specific details in the text, and how they impact the plot. 6.RL.2.3: Explain how a plot unfolds in a series of episodes as well as how the characters respond or change as the narrative advances and moves toward a resolution.	Part A: C. Kate and Jacob are both flexible and easygoing. Part B: C. “Kate saw that her brother had already pulled out their parkas and snow boots.” D. “She picked up a handful of snow, effortlessly rolled it into a ball, and tossed it at Jacob.”

Again, the captain and his crew hiked across the snow expecting to save the ship. When they examined the Baychimo, they decided that it was too damaged to be salvaged, and they officially abandoned the ship. 6 However, the Baychimo had other plans. Several documented cases prove that the Baychimo was spotted multiple times for decades after it was officially abandoned. In 1933, a group of hunters found and boarded the mysterious ship. Another unexpected blizzard trapped the group on the Baychimo for almost two weeks. They disembarked and let the ship sail alone and unmanned back out to sea. The ship was found several more times over a period of decades. No one ever succeeded in gaining control of the vessel. The final reported sighting was in 1969, by a group of local residents who stumbled upon the ship caught in ice yet again.

2	9-10.W.3.1: Write arguments in a variety of forms that – <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Introduce precise claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and create an organization that establishes clear relationships among claim(s), counterclaims, reasons, and evidence. ● Develop claim(s) and counterclaims fairly, supplying evidence for each while pointing out the strengths and limitations of both in a manner that anticipates the audience’s knowledge level and concerns. ● Use effective transitions to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships between claim(s) and reasons, between reasons and evidence, and between claim(s) and counterclaims. ● Establish and maintain a consistent style and tone appropriate to purpose and audience. ● Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the argument presented. 	The widening of the highway is unnecessary and would be detrimental to both citizenry and the environment. Residents living in the affected area already have to contend with heavy traffic and exhaust fumes. Widening the highway would simply compound these negatives. Furthermore , wildlife residing in the natural green spaces would be severely affected by the increase in traffic.
3	9-10.W.4: Apply the writing process to – <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Plan and develop; draft; revise using appropriate reference materials; rewrite; try a new approach, focusing on addressing what is most significant for a specific purpose and audience; and edit to produce and strengthen writing that is clear and coherent. ● Use technology to generate, produce, publish, and update individual or shared writing products, taking advantage of technology’s capacity to link to other information and to display information flexibly and dynamically (e.g., use of publishing programs, integration of multimedia). 	White-water rafting is a recreational activity and extreme sport in which participants navigate an inflatable raft down a river. Because rivers are so varied in their environmental features, they are given a rating so people know how difficult a rafting experience may be. A Class 1 river is for novice rafters to maneuver, while a Class 5 river presents challenges for even the most experienced rafters. Whatever class of river, both novice and expert rafters enjoy the sport because of the thrill they get bouncing through the rapids at the river’s mercy. If rafters follow all safety precautions and work cooperatively, white-water rafting can be a fun and exciting experience.

1	B.9.1: Develop explanations based on reproducible data and observations gathered during laboratory investigations.	This item is Item #2 Constructed-Response of the ISTEP+ Grade 10 Released Part 1 Applied Skills (open-ended) Items and Scoring Notes document at the following link: http://www.doe.in.gov/sites/default/files/assessment/spring-2016-istep-released-items-and-scoring-notesgrade-10-sciencefinal.pdf
2	B.2.3: Explain that most cells contain mitochondria (the key sites of cellular respiration), where stored chemical energy is converted into useable energy for the cell. Explain that some cells, including many plant cells, contain chloroplasts (the key sites of photosynthesis) where the energy of light is captured for use in chemical work.	A. A large surface area allows most cells to produce the usable energy they need for metabolism more quickly.
3	B.2.5: Explain that cells use proteins to form structures (e.g., cilia, flagella), which allow them to carry out specific functions (e.g., movement, adhesion and absorption).	C. movement of dust and mucus out of the lungs
4	B.3.5: Describe how energy from the sun flows through an ecosystem by way of food chains and food webs and how only a small portion of that energy is used by individual organisms while the majority is lost as heat.	0.1 OR 1/10 OR equivalent
5	B.5.3: Describe the process by which DNA directs the production of protein within a cell.	The unique shapes of proteins are determined by DNA. This is because the order of the nucleotides within the DNA provide a code for specific amino acids to be linked together to form the proteins.
6	B.2.4: Explain that all cells contain ribosomes (the key sites for protein synthesis), where genetic material is decoded in order to form unique proteins.	B. rough endoplasmic reticulum D. nucleus E. ribosomes
7	B.9.5: Apply standard techniques in laboratory investigations to measure physical quantities in appropriate units and convert quantities to other units as necessary.	A botanist is testing the effect of an organic fertilizer on the crop yield of apple trees. In order to determine the amount of fruit produced, the botanist should use a scale ▾ to measure the mass ▾ of the harvested apples.
